

Lettering Styles

These are the most popular lettering styles. The finishes in which they can be produced are cut only, cut and enamelled, cut and gold leaf, or cut and lead filled.

These are a small selection of the lettering styles that are available and have been computer generated. Every inscription is open to personal choice and style and traditional hand cut lettering is also available.

We are proud to work with a range of skilled craftsmen both locally and further afield. Bespoke designs are readily available and we will be pleased to provide full estimates for all works required.

The memorials shown inside this brochure can be made in various materials acceptable and compliant with churchyard regulations.

Before any memorial can be placed within a cemetery or churchyard formal applications will need to be made to the appropriate authorities.

As part of our service we will make these applications on your behalf and offer advice on which materials or designs would be most acceptable to that particular authority or church.

There are statutory fees that will need to be paid to the church or cemetery authority as part of the application; these costs will be confirmed to you as part of our free estimating service.

Before any order is placed a signed confirmation of order will be required, after which a layout of the proposed inscriptions will be forwarded for signed approval before any lettering is started.
